

Case study

Designer: Esther Taylor of Esther Taylor Design.

Location: Overlooking Hampstead Heath, London.

The brief: To create a chic and contemporary hotel-style ensuite bathroom with timeless shapes and finishes.

Cost: Around £28,000.

Esther Taylor fitted this ensuite bathroom with solid slabs of Carrara marble, which were meticulously cut and laid to ensure that the grain would flow and look like one continuous piece of marble. "One of the biggest challenges was the awkward shape of the bathroom," Esther says. "The Victoria + Albert Baths freestanding tub was positioned on an angle in order to eliminate wasted corner space, which houses the plumbing for the bath. Mirrored finishes also help to ensure a greater feeling of space and depth. Ease of cleaning was also important to the client and, with this in mind, the bathroom was fitted with undermounted sinks and a back-to-wall WC and bidet, which keeps all pipework hidden."
